COTTON MARKET.

Quotations furnished by W. B. Hibbs & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, Hibbs

New York, Jan. 23,-The cotton market has seem-If may last until something develops in the London situation, or it may continue until the new crop, with the chances and uncertainties of the probably unforescen occurs to infuse new life into a rather worn and faded looking affair. It is true that on the surface at least the statistical position looks strong. The trouble is that curtailment of the crop has been offset by curtailment of demand; nor perhaps it might be more correct to say that it has been neutralized by the hand-to-mouth policy in buying which is persistently pursued by the spinners. Futures closed 4 points lower to 4 higher, with the tone steady. Sales, 250,000 bales.
